Comment on in country processing of produce

Biofuel production + electricity generation Shea nuts are combined with natural oils to make cosmetic products.

Processing facilities / production infrastructure of the project (e.g. oil mill, ethanol distillery, biomass power plant etc.)

The company seems to have developed a model around clean energy activity centres where the local women have access to clean electricity to process their nuts rather than using wood.

Overall Comment

Overall comment

Overall comment

The company uses clean energy centres to offer services to local women. The company does not buy the nuts, but the butter which has a higher value. The women are free to sell the butter to other buyers. It has launched a range of cosmetic products.
