Comment on investment chain

In 2004, the ranch was purchased by the U.K.-based conservation organisation, Fauna & Flora International (FFI), with the financial backing of the Arcus Foundation, a private international philanthropic organisation founded by Jon Stryker. The land purchase was wholly funded by a $15 million donation from the Arcus Foundation, which worked in tandem with FFI and the Lewa Wildlife Conservancy to secure the 90,000 acres. Ownership was transferred from FFI to a Kenyan non-profit entity (OI Pejeta conservancy) in 2005 under a long-term management agreement.
