Bilyonaryo Manny Zamora-led Emerging Power Inc. (EPI), in partnership with Jobin-SQM Inc. (JSI), has successfully activated an additional 72-megawatt solar capacity at its facility located in Mt. Sta. Rita, within the Subic Bay Freeport Zone in Zambales.

This expansion marks a significant milestone for JSI, elevating its total installed and operational solar power capacity to 172MW, positioning it as one of the country's largest single solar power generation plants.

The newly added capacity incorporates the use of 580-watt solar PV panels, enhancing the plant's overall generation capabilities.

The expansion project includes the installation of a cutting-edge substation equipped with advanced communication and remote operations control features, ensuring faster response times in the event of technical incidents.

With this increased solar capacity now online, EPI, the power unit of Nickel Asia Corp., continues to play a vital role in bolstering the nation's renewable energy supply.
