

Our Mission

is to be a leader of the Russian agribusiness in operational efficiency, modern technology and corporate responsibility

«AgroTerra» - is a group of Russian regional holding companies founded in 2008 to carry out production of agricultural commodities. AgroTerra Group has made significant investments in modern farming technologies and working capital necessary for successful large-scale agricultural operations.

AgroTerra strives to establish itself as a leader among international producers of agricultural products. This will help it stimulate growth in prosperity for its clients, shareholders, employees, and the local citizens in the regions of operation.

Career

Our employees are passionate for result. They are professionals to whom is important the business itself and who want to contribute to the resurgence of rural community.
