Tan Binh Industrial Park (TBIP) is established at the end of 2013 invested by Tan Binh Industrial Park Joint Stock Company with Phuoc Hoa Rubber Joint Stock Company (PHR) as the major shareholder while PHR is affiliated with Vietnam Rubber Group (VRG). PHR is an organization which has potential funds, lands and a lot of experience, capability in investing in industrial and residential infrastructure sectors. Some of the industrial parks and residential areas which PHR has invested such as Nam Tan Uyen Industrial Park (Binh Duong), Phuoc Dong Industrial Park (Tay Ninh), Phuoc Hoa Residential (Phu Giao, Binh Duong).

TBIP has the area of 352.5 hectares located in the Northern part of Binh Duong province which is one of provinces in the Southern Key Economic Zone of Vietnam, and where concentrates many industrial zones of the country. TBIP has an advantage of location for transportation which is only 15 km away from Binh Duong Integrated Political - Administrative Center, 51 km from Ho Chi Minh City to the northwest, and very convenient for accessing to raw materials areas in Binh Phuoc province and Central Highlands (Tay Nguyen) on the main road DT 741, especially abundant supply of wood and natural rubber latex. Because of this favorable geographical location, TBIP especially attracts investors who specializes in manufacturing products from wood and natural rubber.

Even though TBIP is a newly established industrial park compares with other industrial parks in the southern industrial zone, however, with location advantage, synchronous infrastructure system, and favorable investment policy of Binh Duong province government. TBIP is confident to determine to be a highly attractive destination for investors in Vietnam and around the world coming to Binh Duong which has other popular industrial parks such as Song Than, VSIP, My Phuoc.
