> All anything, but the main condition is to attract to work on leased Russian soil only Chinese workers. Limiting the number of Chinese workers not specified. Ie the amount of Chinese labor can grow without stopping, in a geometric progression. Today, 1,000 people, 15,000 in 5 years, etc. And finally on the territory leased land will be more Chinese than Russian. Not hard to guess what it can threaten Russia.

The lies and provocation.

Trans-Baikal Territory Governor Konstantin Ilkovsky denied the information on the lease of 115 thousand. Hectares of land in the region to China. The corresponding statement was made head of the region on the air of "Altes", reports Baikal Daily.

"We are today-and for rent has not given anything to anyone, it is called-the parties exchanged promises to be mutually beneficial",-he said, noting that no documents have been signed. Ilkovsky added that under the agreement the Chinese can not be more than 50% of the labor force in these lands.

And you yourself, then your post carefully read? 🙄 That's what you said:

"All anything, but the main condition is to attract to work on leased Russian soil only Chinese workers.

Limiting the number of Chinese workers never negotiated. That is, the amount of Chinese labor can grow without stopping, in a geometric progression."

But Huber:

"Ilkovsky added that under the agreement the Chinese can not constitute more than 50% of the workforce in these zemlyah."

Who you are and you? And who Guber? 🙄

And about Japp-you're there, I suppose, merznuschy finger greesh? 🙄

Threat to Russia is not so much the policy intentions for the transfer of land rent to the Chinese as the trend to the fact that Russia is becoming a long-term supplier of raw materials to China, rather than the supplier of the finished product.

It is necessary to change the perspective for the future supply of raw materials supply of goods.

And to think, and you need to argue about this, not that-as the Chinese will come to us.
