with 1,000 surgeons as well as data experts. A 30-member multi-disciplinary team, comprising of endocrinologists, bariatric physicians, plastic surgeons, neurologists, internists, psychiatrists and psychologists, is working under the supervision of Dr Tariq. Adressing a press conference on Monday, Dr Tariq El Shamsi, chief surgeon of Qatar centre, said, "The centre is fully equipped and operating rooms. With 1,000 surgeons and 30 experts we can take care of enough people. When the new operating rooms are ready, it will be doubled by half. Right now, patients need to wait from six months to one year before they can undergo bariatric operation at the HMC." According to Qatar, 60 percent of their patients are obese in the Gulf region. Obesity is a serious problem in Qatar, he said, adding, that the centre has recently started taking cases of adolescents. From, the centre will also extend its opering to children between the ages of eight and 14 years.

We’re going to embark within the next few months on surgery for kids, between the age of 8 and 14 years. This is another problem," he added. According to Qatar, nearly five adolescents have already operated at the centre for bariatric surery in the last six months. The patients included two teenagers aged 16 years old, one of them weighing 60 kilograms, and another one weighing 120 kilograms who underwent bariatric surgery two years ago. There are now about 20 more teenagers on the waiting list. Moreover, we keep medicines, such as tea, especially green tea, tomatoes and broccoli. As natural resources have found a natural way for producing antioxidants that do not have any side effects," he said. Speaking to Qatar Tribune, Dr Tariq El Shamsi, dermatologist at Al Emad Hospital, said, "Early, doctors used to recpent replacement therapy for prescribing medicatines to women who were suffering from symptoms of estrogen loss but they have now found that such medicinals often cause cancer. Fortunately, researchers have found a natural way for producing estrogen that do not have any side effects," he said. According to recent research, soya beans contain benzo-rine to women who are ageing and can get back their youthful skin. The best way to restore estrogen loss is to eat soya beans. I think there are studies which also confirm that estrogen deficiency has accelerated ageing changes that result in skin, producing accelerated ageing changes and bringing more wrinkles, dryness, telangiectasias — including lentigines, gut-

Qatar looks for better trade ties

Minister of Culture, Arts and Heritage, His Excellency Sheikh Dr Salah bin Hamad Al-Kuwari, has called for Qatar to be awarded the rank of an international trade partner. The minister made this call when he addressed the delegation of Ugandan business people who came to Qatar to promote trade and investment opportunities.

The minister said that Qatar has the potential to become a major international trade partner, especially in terms of exports and imports. He added that Qatar’s strategic location and strong economic performance make it an attractive destination for international businesses.

The minister also emphasized the importance of developing trade relations with Uganda, which is a promising market for Qatar’s exports. He said that Qatar is interested in exporting its petroleum products, natural gas, and other commodities to Uganda and in importing Ugandan products such as coffee, tea, and agricultural goods.

The minister called on Qatar’s private sector to take the lead in promoting trade relationships with Uganda. He encouraged Qatari businesses to explore opportunities in the Ugandan market and to establish partnerships with local enterprises.

The minister added that Qatar is eager to learn from Uganda’s experiences in promoting trade and investment and to share best practices in this regard. He hoped that the visit of the delegation would pave the way for future trade and investment projects between the two countries.

The minister said that Qatar is committed to fostering partnerships and cooperation with Uganda and other African countries to support their economic development.

The minister ended his speech by emphasizing that Qatar’s role as a bridge between the East and West can contribute to strengthening trade relationships and promoting prosperity in the region.

The visit of the delegation to Qatar was part of a larger initiative by the Uganda Government to strengthen its economic ties with countries in the Middle East. The delegation was led by the Minister of Trade and Industry, Eng. Ms. Betty Amongi, who is accompanied by a group of business leaders and entrepreneurs.
