Vietnam Rubber Group is expanding abroad

🕒 OCTOBER 12, 2012 👤 ROBERT 💬 LEAVE A COMMENT

(VEN) – The Vietnamese government encouraged domestic investors to expand rubber plantations in Laos and Cambodia in the program of economic cooperation with the neighboring countries. The Vietnam Rubber Group (VRG) took the lead in implementing this program, with plans to develop 140 hectare rubber plantations in Laos and Cambodia for the 2011-2015 period, increasing the group's total rubber area up to a half million hectares by 2015. Rubber expansion To implement the Vietnamese – Laotian cooperation program for rubber development in Laos, VRG has conducted a survey in early 2005 and established the Viet Lao Rubber JSC (VLR) in Champasak Province, pioneering in the investment and development of foreign rubber plantations. To date, VLR has grown more than 10,000ha rubber plantations with a total investment of more than US$68 million. In harmony with the company's growth rate, a series of barren hills in Champasak Province have now been covered with rubber trees. Rubber plantations here are probably the best in Southeast Asia with a survival rate of 97 percent. VLR is exploiting more than 1,600ha and employs more than 2,300 local people. Labor Hero Ho Van Ngung, VLR General Manager, proudly said: "Our rubber plantations in Laos has changed the local appearance and also contributed considerably to the local socioeconomic development." Along with VLR, there are a number of joint stock companies undertaking rubber plantations in Laos including Dau Tieng Viet Lao Rubber JSC with 20,000ha rubber plantations in Champasak, Quasa Geruco JSC with 8,000ha in Savannakhet, Ho Chi...
