

The water level at Nam Khan 2-3 HPPs is still remains controllable

Committee in charge of Nam Khan 2-3 hydropower plants (HPP) had noticed to all sectors in LuangPrabang city and Xieng Ngeun district, Luang Prabang province is aware that since the 18th August 2019 the water has been released via the spillway of Nam Khan 3 HPP.

Thus, at 14:00 pm of 23rd August 2019, we had announced to all related authorities and to the people who live along Nam Khan river to be alerted and well prepared for any possible flood event that could be happening during the release of water from the spillway which will lead to the increased water level in the trail water of Nam Khan 3 HPP and the downstream area. The water will be:

- Released via the spillway in an amount of 300 m³ per second
- Released via the turbine in an amount of 172 m³ per second

The water flowed in the downstream area of Nam Khan 3 dam will be 572 m³ per second in total. Accordingly, the change of the water level in the downstream area that raised from the normal level 306.7 metres above the sea level to 308.50 metres above the sea level will increase the water level in the downstream area of Nam Khan 3 HPP to 1.00-1.80 metres (This water level is not in danger zone). It is still considered as SAFE. Thus, the release of water is to secure the environment and social safety especially the communities living along Khan River is safe.

Therefore, this notice is applied based on daily measurement of the water level that continuously grows which increase the amount of water in reservoir of the Nam Khan 2-3 HPP. However, this is to control the water level in the reservoir and the (60MW) is able to produce 240.8 GWh per year. The Nam Khan 2 hydropower plant is 48km away from the Nam Khan 3 plant in Xieng Nguen district, Luang Prabang province, located in 400km in the north of Vientiane Capital and 80km from Luangprabang city.
